DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 2-29 are cancelled in view of the Preliminary Amendment submitted on April 12, 2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Taylor (US 4,096,008).

Taylor teaches the use of a retreading apparatus comprising a tire casing mount, a cushion gum applicator, a tread dispenser, and a tread applicator in accordance to the limitations outlined in the claimed invention. As best depicted in Figure 1, the apparatus of Taylor includes a mounted carcass that is to be rotated by a suitable drive mechanism (Column 3, Lines 21-25), a cushion gum applicator in the form of material roll spindles (Column 3, Lines 10-20), a tread dispenser in the form of a molding apparatus (Column 3, Lines 1-3), and a tread applicator in the form of a pressure wheel or roll (Column 3, Lines 10-12), all of which are integrated into a single machine. It is further noted that the aligning and pressure rollers 13 and 14 could also be viewed as the cushion gum applicator. It is emphasized that the claims are directed to an apparatus and each of the above noted components of Taylor is configured in a manner consistent with that of the claimed invention.
